SUMMARY

Data engineer who builds event pipelines for a fintech serving mobile money users. I enjoy cost-aware design on BigQuery and making ingestion robust against flaky upstream APIs. Four years of production experience. I am active in the local data community and mentor graduates through a women in tech programme. I like clear data contracts with upstream teams and writing alerts that tell people exactly what to fix.

SKILLS

Google BigQuery, Pub/Sub, Dataflow, Apache Beam, Python, SQL, Cloud Composer, dbt, Cloud Functions, Looker Studio, Data lineage, Cloud Storage

EXPERIENCE

Data Engineer, Kobo Pay Technologies 2021 – Present

- Streamed about 5 million daily transactions through Pub/Sub and Beam into partitioned BigQuery tables.
- Built a reconciliation job that flagged ledger mismatches within ten minutes.
- Tuned queries and table layouts, bringing monthly warehouse cost down by 40%.
- Created alerting for late and malformed events.
- Wrote runbooks and a postmortem template so incidents on the pipelines are resolved consistently.

Junior Data Engineer, Savanna Telecom Data 2019 – 2021

- Developed Python ingestion scripts for usage records.
- Supported the BI team with SQL views.
- Learned the telecom billing domain and presented usage trends to the commercial team each quarter.
- Reduced file ingestion errors by validating schemas before loading.
- Moved a cluster of ad hoc scripts into scheduled, monitored jobs with automatic retry behaviour.

Software Engineering Intern, Lekki Systems Limited 2018 (6 months)

- Built a small Flask API and wrote automated tests for it.
- Assisted senior developers with database migrations.
- Documented endpoints for the mobile team.
- Handled data requests from analysts and finance staff, keeping a short turnaround log.
- Collaborated with a mobile team to define a consistent event schema.
